Summer meeting

German Speaking section of the Regional Science Association International (GfR)
Institute for Employment Research (IAB)

Vienna, 29-30 June 2006

Invitation

Dear Sir or Madam,

we would like to invite you to the summer meeting of the Institute for Employment Research (IAB), the German Speaking section of the Regional Science Association International (GfR) and the University of Economics and Business Administration Vienna in Vienna, Austria.

The main topic is “Effects of newly founded firms, spinn-offs and outsourcing on the region“. A number of theoretical and empirical studies will be presented in this workshop so that the seminar gives a very good overview of the current state of the art in this field of research.

We are especially pleased that Professor Audretsch (Max-Planck-Institute Jena, Germany) followed our invitation to give the keynote speak on Saturday afternoon. We expect two interesting days and are looking forward to the possibility to welcome a number of active regional economists in Vienna.
