Call for Papers
Winter seminar of the Gesellschaft für Regionalforschung
February 17th – 24th, 2007
Igls / Innsbruck (Austria)

The next winter seminar of the German Speaking Section of the ERSA will take place February 17th – 24th, 2007 in Igls / Innsbruck (Austria). Accommodation will be at the "Tiroler Bildungsinstitut GRILLHOF" in Igls.

International scientists are cordially invited to participate. In order to strengthen the cooperation within the European RSA some sections intend to give financial assistance for the participation.

The deadline for the call for papers is November 19th, 2006. Please send an abstract of your paper. The tentative program will be mailed in December 2006. The program will be permanently posted on the homepage (<http://gfr.ersa.org/>).

Typically, three papers per day are presented and discussed at the winter seminar. For each paper 90 minutes (including discussion) are reserved. Papers may be presented in German or English. No written version of the paper is needed in advance. However, all papers will be published in the following „Seminarberichte“ (seminar reports) which will appear in fall 2007.

For more information please contact me by phone, fax or email.
